SENIOR CLASS of NORWOOD HIGH SCHOOL, NORWOOD, OHIO

Attention!

Little ole Adam Bum (atom bomb) presents this book to you. He is the essence of the mightiest senior class that has ever entered this What-Fir Ridge Laboratory. On June 7 he was officially completed and burst upon a wondering world in a great blaze of glory. But in that blaze of glory a residue of dreams, joys, and happiness was left behind. To us, the atomic marvels, this book will recall the memories of our fabulous achievement at Norwood High School. To you, the lower classmen, the "building blocks," or better still, the protons and neutrons of like experiments of coming years, we leave this book as a formula to guide you happily and successfully until you attain the characteristics that make you ready to be exploded upon this new and wondrous world.

The Young Dead Soldiers

ARCHIBALD MacLEISH

The young dead soldiers do not speak.
Nevertheless they are heard in the still houses.
(Who has not heard them?)

They have a silence that speaks for them at night
And when the clock counts.

They say,
We were young. We have died. Remember us.

They say,
We have done what we could
But until it is finished it is not done.

They say,
We have given our lives
But until it is finished no one can know what our lives gave.

They say,
Our deaths are not ours,
They are yours,
They will mean what you make them.

They say,
Whether our lives and our deaths were for peace and a new hope
Or for nothing
We cannot say.
It is you who must say this.

They say,
We leave you our deaths,
Give them their meaning,
Give them an end to the war and a true peace,
Give them a victory that ends the war and a peace afterwards,
Give them their meaning.

We were young, they say.
We have died.
Remember us.

This World Is Ours

Page by page we shall introduce to you—this dynamic senior class, the teachers who were the magnetic forces in the experiment of the atom, the lower classmen who are being mixed and filtered to complete the reaction in years to come, and the many activities which are the energy outlets for the products of this great laboratory.

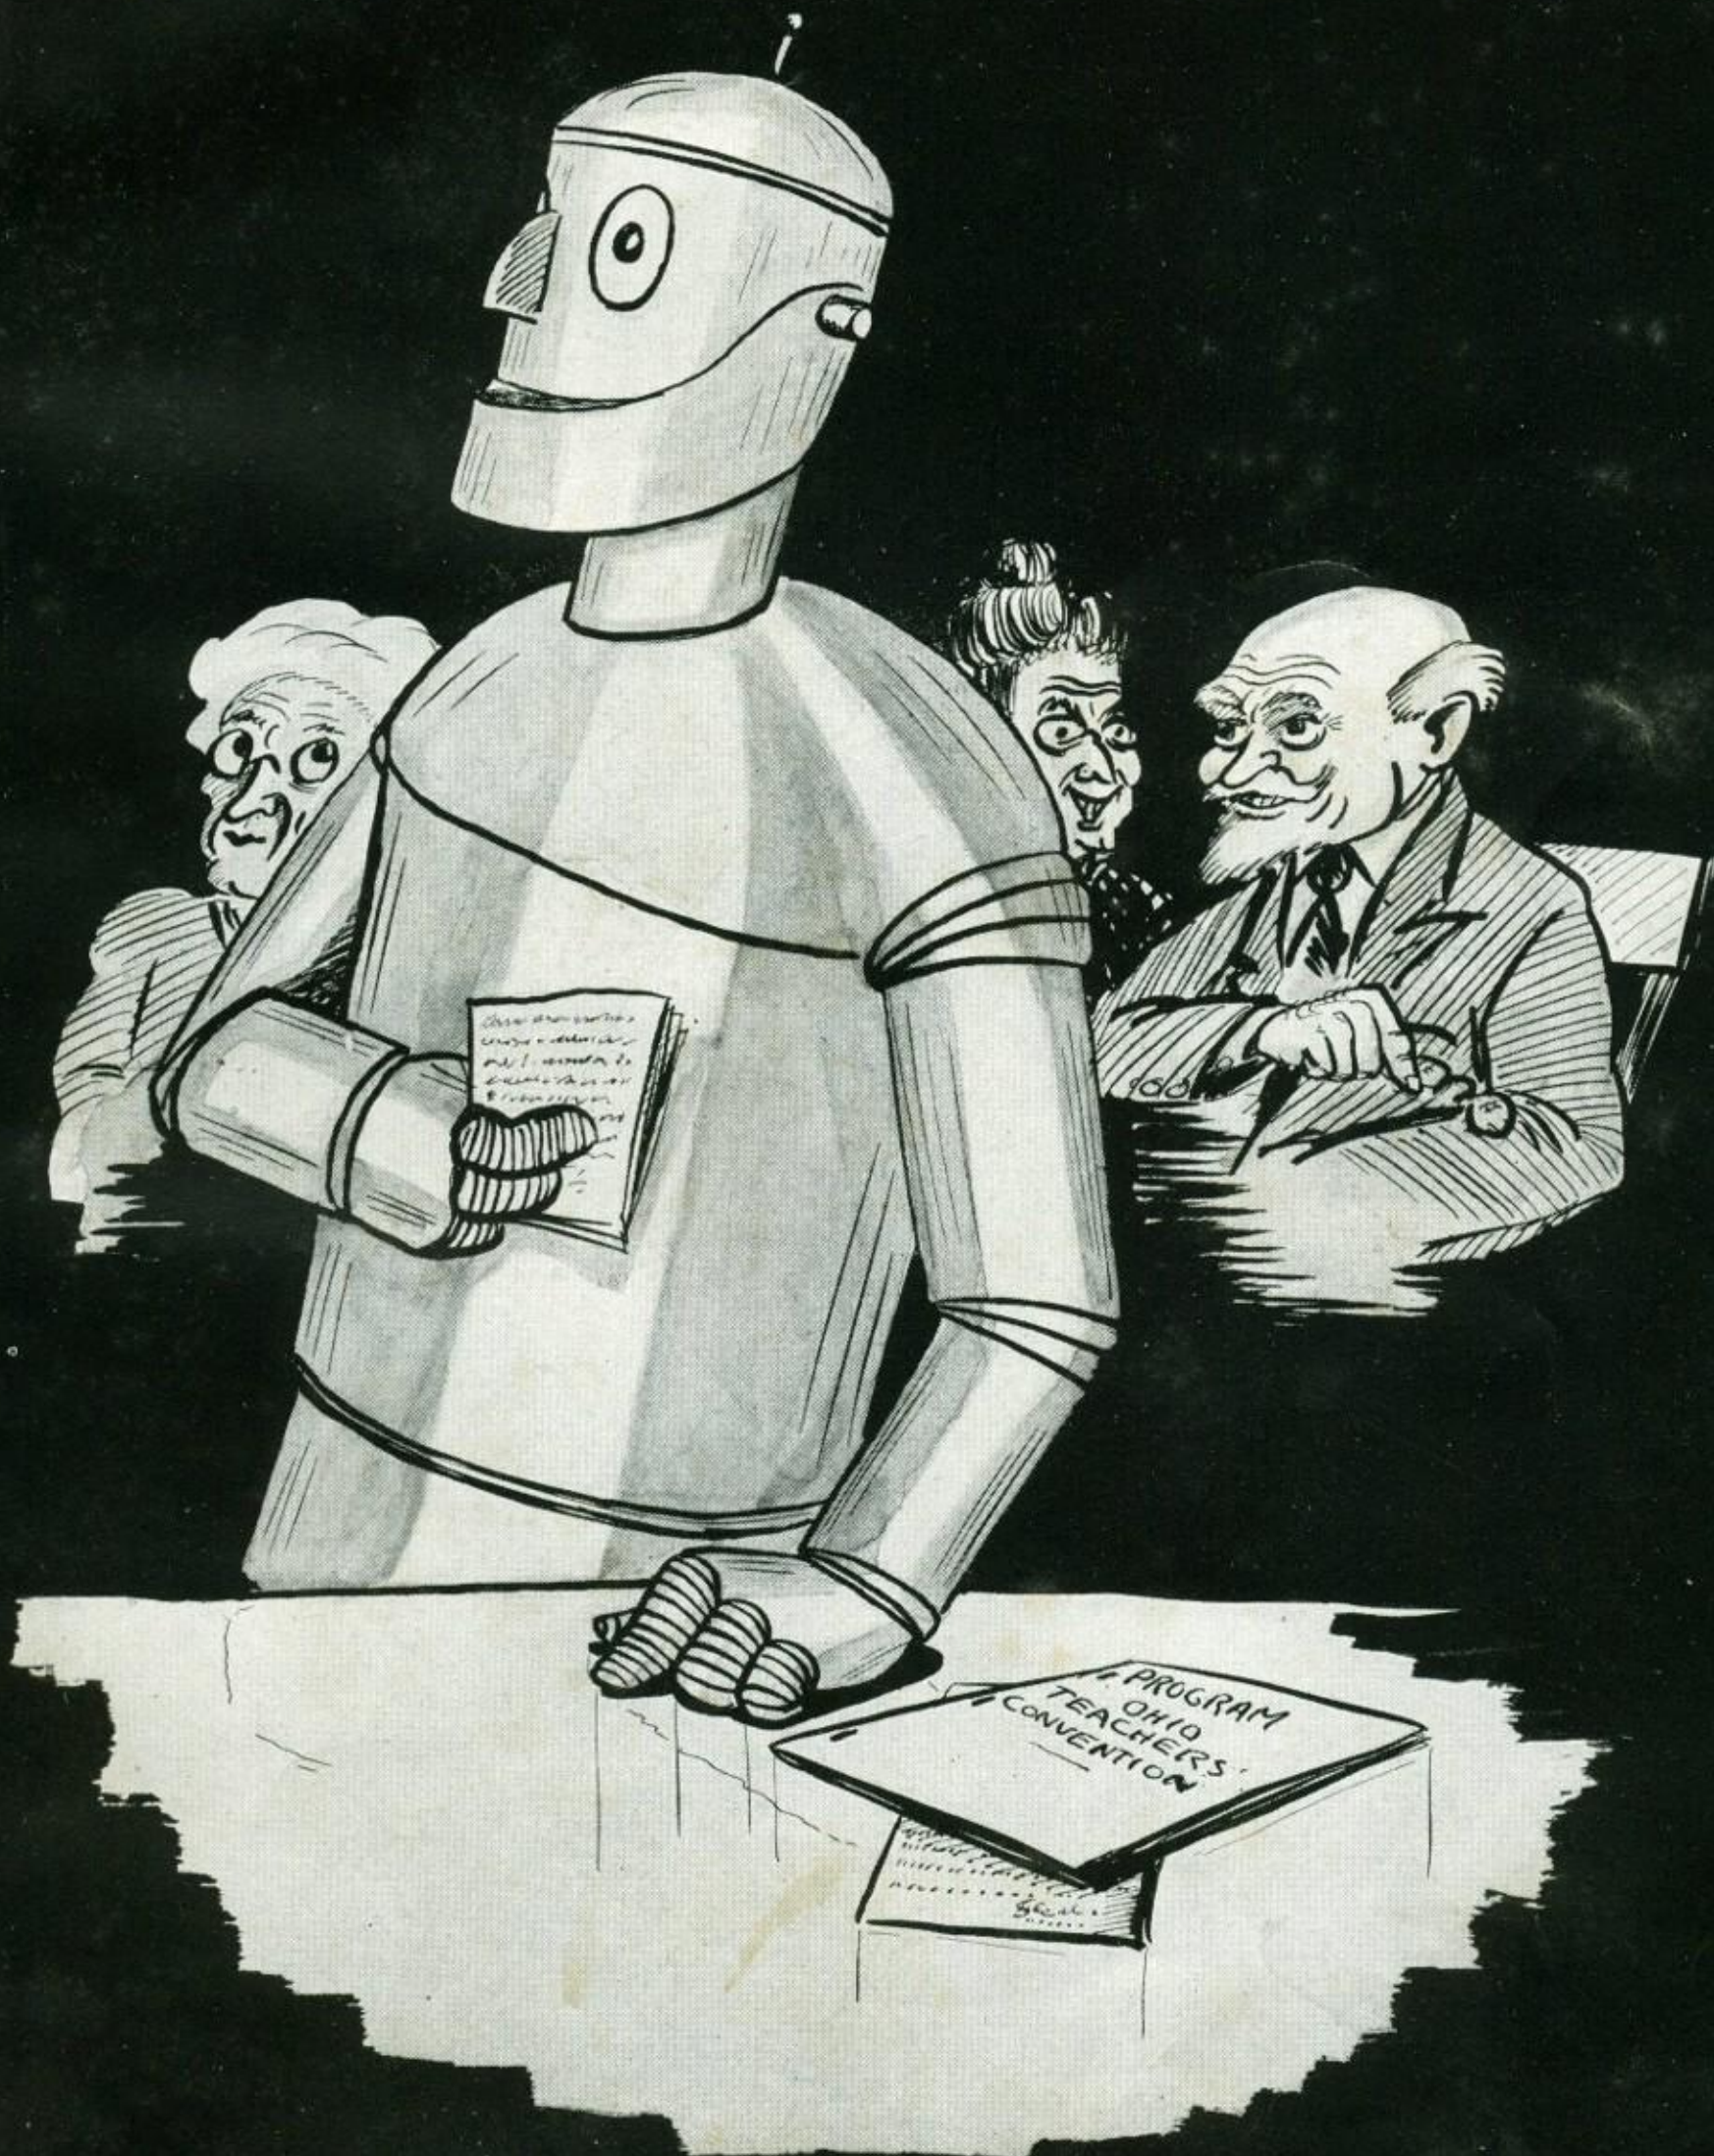

In order for the experiment to be a complete success, the teachers, whom we may well call the investigators or technicians, controlled the atom by adding a sufficient amount of the chemical D. T. These investigators probed deeply into the unknown part of the atom to make its uranium friction with gaseous confusion. The daily assignments which they displaced upon the isotopes were the wildest nightmares of the imagination. But the technicians were positive that the experiment could never succeed unless the basic elements were added each day. Miss Burns, Mr. Albrecht, Mr.

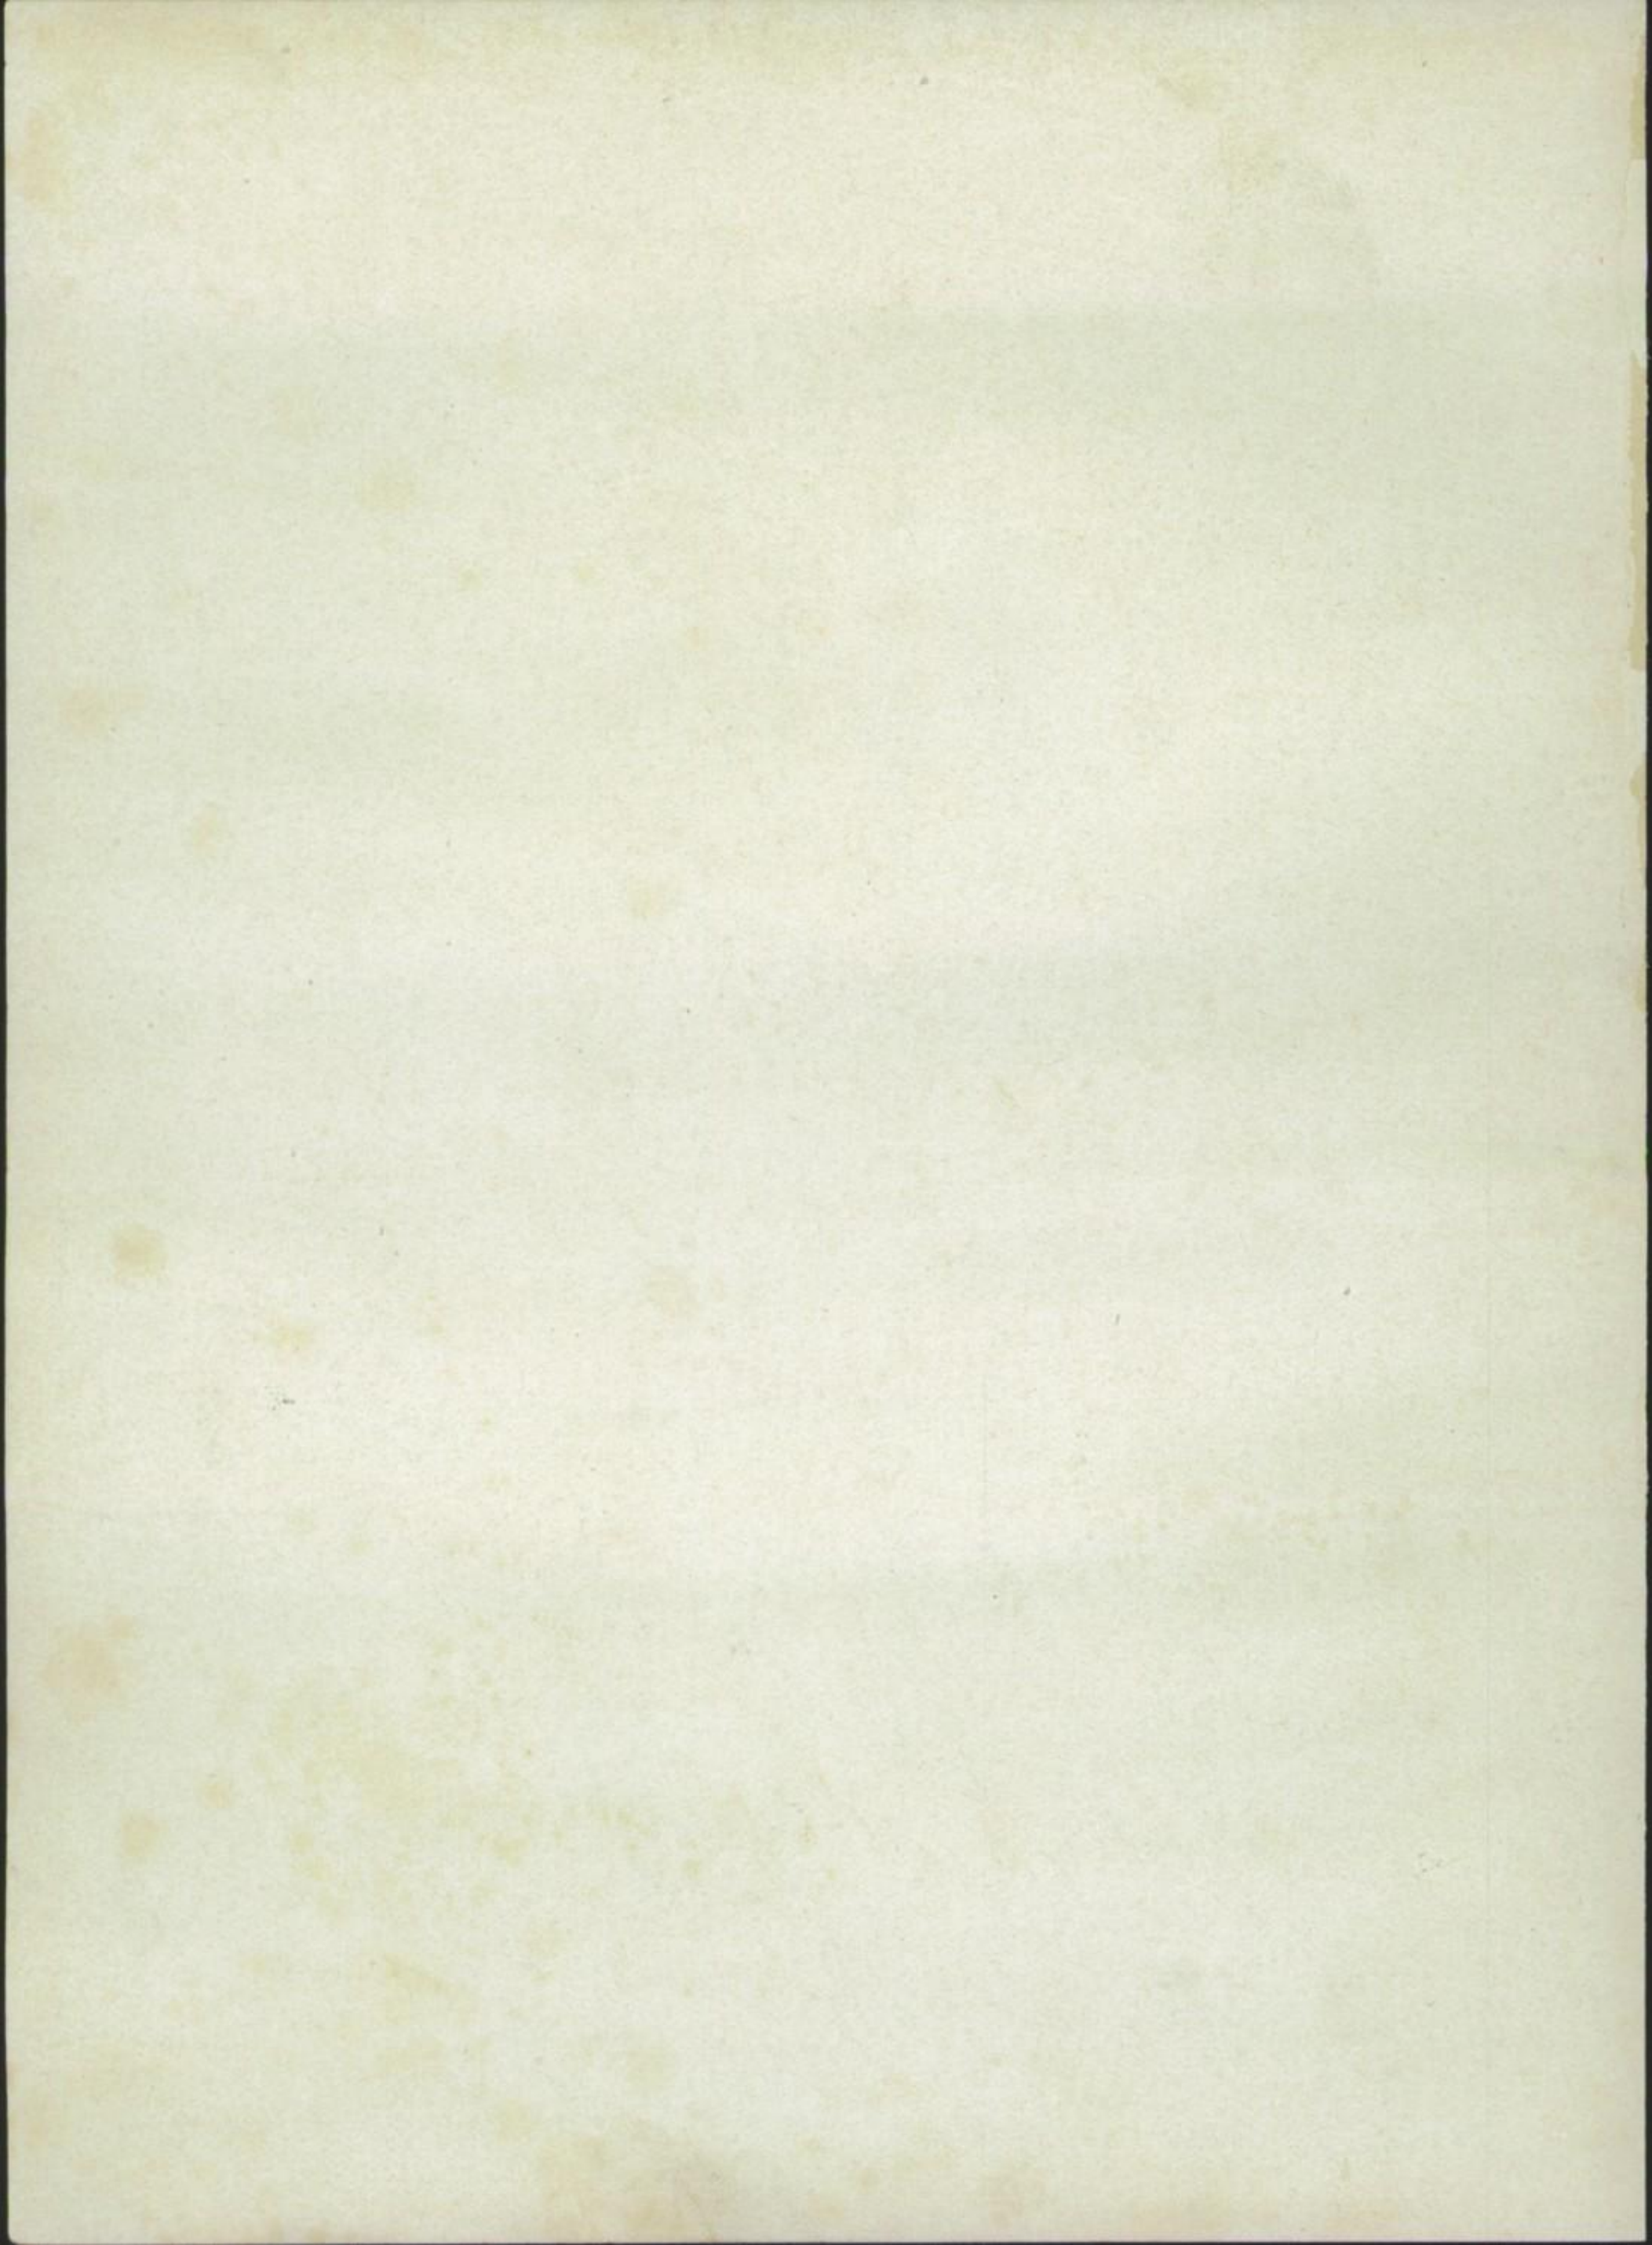

Ludwig, and Mr. Maitland came back to add the last of the needed elements.

At last the final assembly of the atom was completed; no man-made phenomenon of such tremendous power had ever occurred before. Success was the reward for four years of striving to put together this potent atom. When released from the laboratory the atom made a blinding flash. These seniors accepted their diplomas with a sustained roar.

Thoughts of the new world into which they were entering flashed through their minds: "The war has been won but the peace is yet to come. The world is ours now. The duty of bringing and preserving complete peace is ours. We realize our great responsibility. But we feel that we have been well prepared for that responsibility and now we are ready."

We warn you reader—hold your breath. We warn you world—we're coming. SIZ-BOOM!

"Children—through public schools they have their opportunities for a fair start in life. Ultimately, it is the school board which decides whether that start is an excellent one or one far below America's ideals."

This is a fair statement by the National Education Association of the fundamental purpose of a Board of Education. The success of public education, to a large extent, rests upon the quality of the citizens who are selected to manage the community's schools. Able and wise members bring a wholesome, unselfish, community point of view. The result is good schools.

School board members help to direct one of the community's largest enterprises. In Norwood this involves the management of property and assets of more than two million dollars and the annual expenditure of over $500,000. During the next few years the Norwood Board of Education will spend an additional one and one-third million dollars, thus increasing its property holdings.

Within the year the Board intends to erect an addition to the North Norwood elementary school. Should building conditions improve rapidly, this will be followed by the erection of a Technical School adjoining the High School shop. In providing this new school, the Board proposes to offer larger educational opportunities extending far beyond those now offered.

Citizens of Norwood have exercised care in the selection of the trustees for her most important enterprise. Norwood numbers among her citizens men of high quality who serve, gratuitously and unselfishly, that youth may have their chance.

Trusteeship in education is not applauded by thousands in a stadium; it is nonetheless American. Responsibilities of the office are large; opportunities for service to childhood and mankind are tremendous.

HAROLD S. BATES
Superintendent of Norwood
Public Schools

B. M. HANNA
Principal of Norwood High School

Norwood youth may anticipate greatly expanded opportunities in education and vocations as preparation for their part in this new era of adventure and achievement, prosperity and peace.

The modern age carries frightful possibilities and grave responsibilities for young and old alike. Modern warfare with its scientific developments has made it impossible for us ever to return to our old way of living and has made imperative a new way of thinking in developing new social and economic processes.

Youth has opportunities in this new world far beyond the wildest imaginings of a few short years ago, but by the same token, youth has great responsibilities which it must be prepared to assume. Shall we have a new era of world brotherhood with peace and good-will as our goal, or shall we plunge into a "push-button war" which will assuredly bring an end to civilization as we know it? Youth must decide since it has inherited a world at the cross-roads of civilization.

It is great to be back at Norwood High helping the young people with their problems and helping to prepare them for life in this new atomic age.

Fine Arts

The Fine Arts Department of N. H. S. has much to offer its students. From the first cymbal crash in September till summer vacation the band marches, counter-marches, twirls, perspires, and sends little tingles up and down one's spine. Everyone enjoys Miss Ewing's music classes so much that arising an hour earlier to sing in the choir and glee clubs is a mere nothing to her students compared to their enjoyment of their work. The third part of this department is building some strong muscles too. Sandwiched in between drawing, painting, sculptoring, crafts, and commercial art is the making of posters, which have helped to put over practically every project N. H. S. has ever undertaken. Nearly a half thousand are made each year. The existence of these interests stimulates the activities of the student body.

"Look at our blooming Rembrandts!"

First Row—Ruth Hooke, Wilfred Pleary.
Second Row—Leonard Tinker, Elwood Nott, Emil Hostetler.

Commercial

The aim of the Commercial Department is to offer instruction in the various types of office occupations. Business methods, bookkeeping, business management, office practice, shorthand, typewriting, business English, commercial law, and business principles are the different subjects which make up the complete commercial program.

In the senior year, commercial students may continue the regular commercial program or they may enroll in the commercial co-operative class, which includes work experience in their training. For the past six years the co-op class has averaged twenty-five students per year.

Many of our students passed the Civil Service examinations in May and received appointments to government positions.

Have you noticed those good-looking gold pins some of the seniors are wearing? They are award pins and indicate proficiency in typewriting, shorthand, or bookkeeping.

"Advanced class in ABC's."

First Row—Katherine Bridge, Julia Louise Sutor, Inez Kemp.
 Second Row—Norma Tielking, Walter Sayrs, Harriet Rea, Margaret Tipton.
 Not Pictured—Ellen Burns, G. Blayne Miller.

English

The Department of English works upon the principle that it affords an "Open Sesame" to each and every student in his chosen field. It endeavors to develop in him such skill as will make easier his attack upon his other studies and will prepare him for advance study. Business English and special courses are planned to meet the needs of special pupils—remedial, vocational, and occupational. The course in literature introduces the student to some of the best writers and strives to lead him into the habit of reading for his own pleasure, as well as for his improvement.

Those who plan and execute these courses believe that a high standard in the use of his native language, whether spoken or written, furthers the equipment of the student for his own advancement and that the adoption of such a standard contributes to a better tone in his community.

"After all, this is English Class!"

Marguerite Mauger, Clare Young, Florence Gorden

Ellen Glassmeyer

Home Economics

Ours is the unique privilege of living in the most challenging period in history—one which imposes a responsibility for personal efficiency on every member of the family in the home, in business, and in school.

The objective of the Home Economics Department is not merely to teach sewing and cooking, as many people believe, but is to develop an appreciation of wholesome home life and an understanding of the responsibilities and skills involved in homemaking.

In the world of today the fields of home economics are broadening constantly. Clothing, foods, and girls' social problems, the subjects offered at present, give fundamental training for the various opportunities in advanced work of home economics, which is a career or business in itself.

"Sweet Dreams!"

First Row—Charles Reichle, Lowell Selby, C. F. Siders.
Second Row—William Meyer, Ben D. Selfridge, Floyd Gates, Harry J. Gaeb.

Industries

An electrical area has been added to the Industrial Arts Department. This addition to drawing, general metals, and woodworking gives our program greater latitude. Mr. Selfridge came to Norwood in September and is developing this area. The general metal area was moved to temporary quarters in the boys' gym.

Relief from crowded and temporary quarters was assured in November, when the bond levy providing for a New Technical School was approved. Vocational teachers are engaged in planning the arrangement of areas and selecting equipment for this school.

Vocational Education also has a new area. Cosmetology, under the direction of Miss Glassmeyer, occupies rooms 101 and 102. Classes in Commercial Co-op, Machine Shop, and Aircraft Engine repair, complete the offerings in Vocational Education.

"Hand me that monkey wrench!"

First Row—Caroline Beavers, Mildred Troup.
Second Row—Byron Wilson, Margaret Scully.

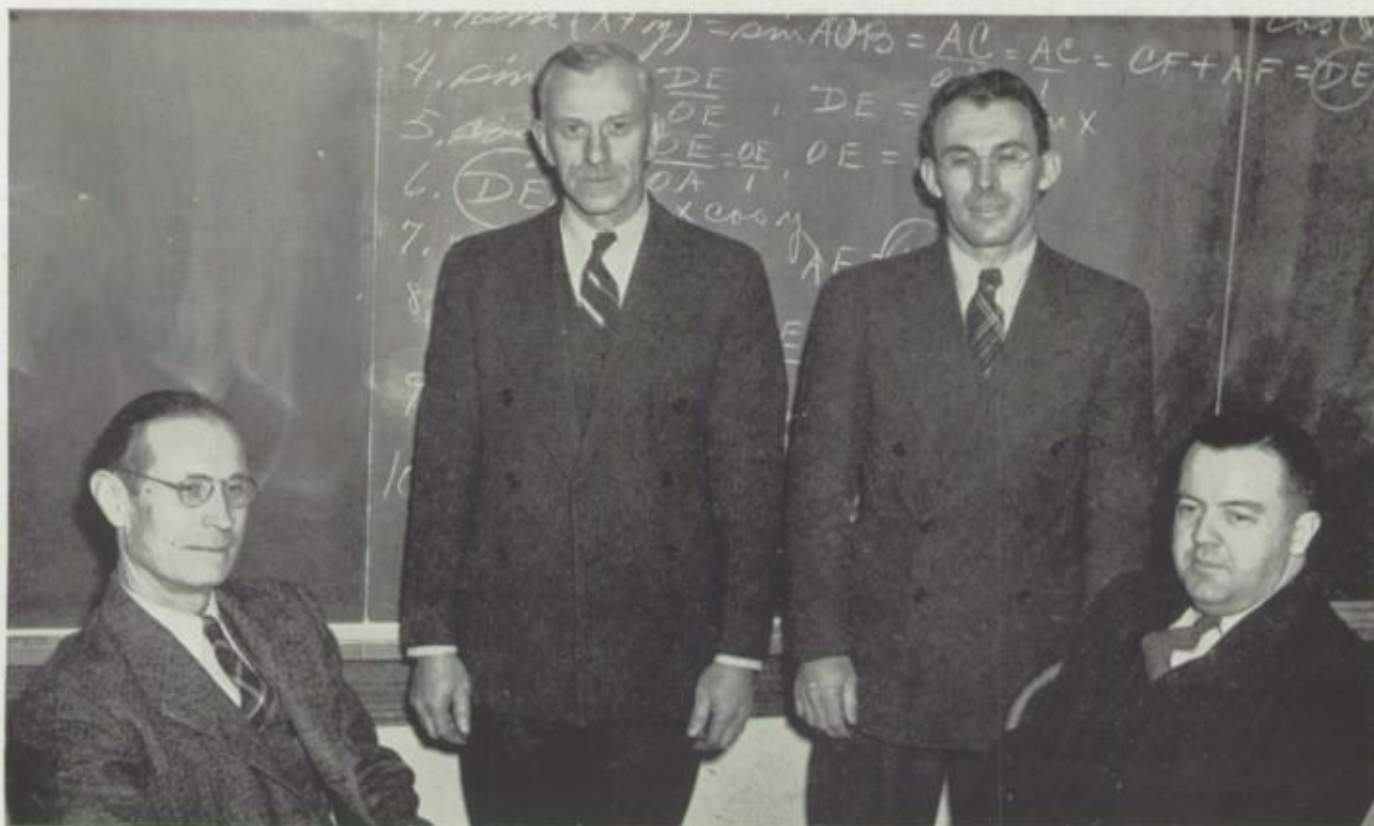

Language

Latin, Spanish and French are taught in our high school. Latin, which is the basis of the Romance languages as well as of English, is helpful in learning the vocabulary and grammar of English, for the language of America is permeated with Latin. Everyone who speaks English uses countless words and expressions that are Latin in origin. All of them enrich one's language; without them one would find difficulty in communicating with one's fellow men.

The study of Spanish, the main language of our neighbors to the south and of French, which is used by some of our neighbors to the north and is the language of diplomats all over the world, will furnish reading knowledge of those languages and also conversational opportunities. A knowledge of these languages will give pupils a rich field of literature and culture which should add greatly to their joy of living.

"It may be French to them, but it's Greek to us."

First Row—Raymond Warmoth, A. B. Cook.
Second Row—Clyde Fordyce, Aaron Gerrard.

Mathematics

Norwood High School offers four years of mathematics. Either algebra or practical mathematics must be studied in the ninth year. Plane geometry may be elected in the tenth year. Solid geometry, second course algebra, trigonometry, and college algebra are elective in the eleventh and twelfth years.

A knowledge of mathematics is essential for boys and girls entering certain types of work. However, mathematical principles and processes should be familiar to all regardless of vocation. The study of mathematics tends to develop precision in thought, and helps in the appreciation of the place of mathematics in the advancement of civilization.

"Plane facts simplified?"

First Row—Ruth Thayer, Susan Eckles, Mary Nell Griffin.
Second Row—Robert Colwell, Paul R. Ludwig.

Physical Education

Physical Education is the contribution made to the complete education of an individual through psych-motor activities. "A healthy mind in a healthy body" used to be considered only a motto of the ancients but with the emphasis on physical fitness brought about by the latest world conflict it has been accepted as a very modern idea. Physical fitness implies much more than mere physical well-being. It includes the proper attitudes toward situations which undoubtedly may reoccur in later life. It fosters the spirit of cooperation between individuals and between groups. It helps to educate the pupil in ways to improve and conserve his own health. Physical Education will teach the significant lessons of the playfield conducive to getting along better with his fellow men; in a word, it educates in socialization.

"Hi-Ho Silver!"

First Row—Mary Louise Nute, Phyllis Hauck, Rollin Steen.
Second Row—Edwin Smith, James Lepley, Carl H. Albrecht, Howard Gaeb.

Science

Mr. Steen and Miss Hauck lead us through the required ninth grade general science in which we begin to get acquainted with our environment and are introduced to various sciences.

Mr. Gaeb and Miss Nute hope that we will choose to take biology in our tenth, eleventh or twelfth year because they think all of us need to understand life itself, particularly our marvelous selves.

Mr. Smith, Mr. Albrecht and Mr. Lepley are eager to teach us physics and chemistry and Mr. Albrecht offers a course in pre-flight aerodynamics. Never in the world's history has the need been so great for knowledge in all of these fields. It is fitting that in this year of the atomic bomb a physics class should be featured.

"It's a bird, it's a plane, it's a science class!"

First Row—McClellan Allen, W. Ross Dunn, John L. Henderson.
Second Row—Cary Miller, Vernon Lowe.

Social Science

The Silhouette is about to record another year, a momentous year for the social studies: V-E Day, V-J day, the atomic bomb, the UNO, travel across the United States by air in fewer hours than it took days by the early railroads, reconversion, and problems foreign and domestic. To achieve a just and lasting peace will be more difficult, more continuous, and less dramatic than the war. Solution of most of the current problems will need a knowledge of or a feeling for the basic principles of economics and social science.

In this age of speed and ease the great question, instead of the atomic bomb, may well turn out to be: Will the future citizens use enough time and effort to get the basic understandings in the social studies that will enable society to solve these problems wisely?

"Keeping up with the world?"

Library

The High School Library, now under the management of Miss Doris Moore, had its beginning in September, 1922, when Miss Julia Louise Sutor started a small library at the end of Room 207, then a small study hall. In the beginning, there were not enough books to cover even a small part of the end of the study hall. As books were suggested by the various teaching divisions, they were added to the small library and later transferred to the present library room. Since there were not enough books to be classified as they now are, at first all books were placed in one section of the room. Miss Sutor, having a full-time teaching schedule, could give her services to the library only in after-school hours, so a full-time librarian had to be employed and the library was divided into two sections, the Junior Library and the Senior Library.

A library staff, consisting of high school pupils, works daily in the library. There is an average of two persons a period who help Miss Moore with various tasks such as shelving and mending books, checking books in and out, typing, and caring for and planning the second floor bulletin boards.

DORIS MOORE
Librarian

Near the end of the first semester a successful Library Week was sponsored by the Student Council in which Tag Day and Bring 'Em Back Alive Day were featured. As a result of Tag Day, several books for leisure reading were purchased.

"Our diligent library aides."

Office Girls

"What would we do without our office girls, Martha Rahe and Janet Bennett!"

This is our day: daily absence sheet and announcements; pupils' permanent records; athletic eligibility; mind reading; pupils' schedules; correspondence; keeping the keys for forgetful children; monthly and yearly attendance reports; records of withdrawals and entries; honor roll; afternoon coffee; arrangement of school program for returned veterans; courses of study; North Central Association and Ohio State Department reports; transcripts; wearing a smile for all teachers; term failure lists; budget; spring orders; requisitions; mimeographing, senior examinations included; locking the front door we sadly leave for home.

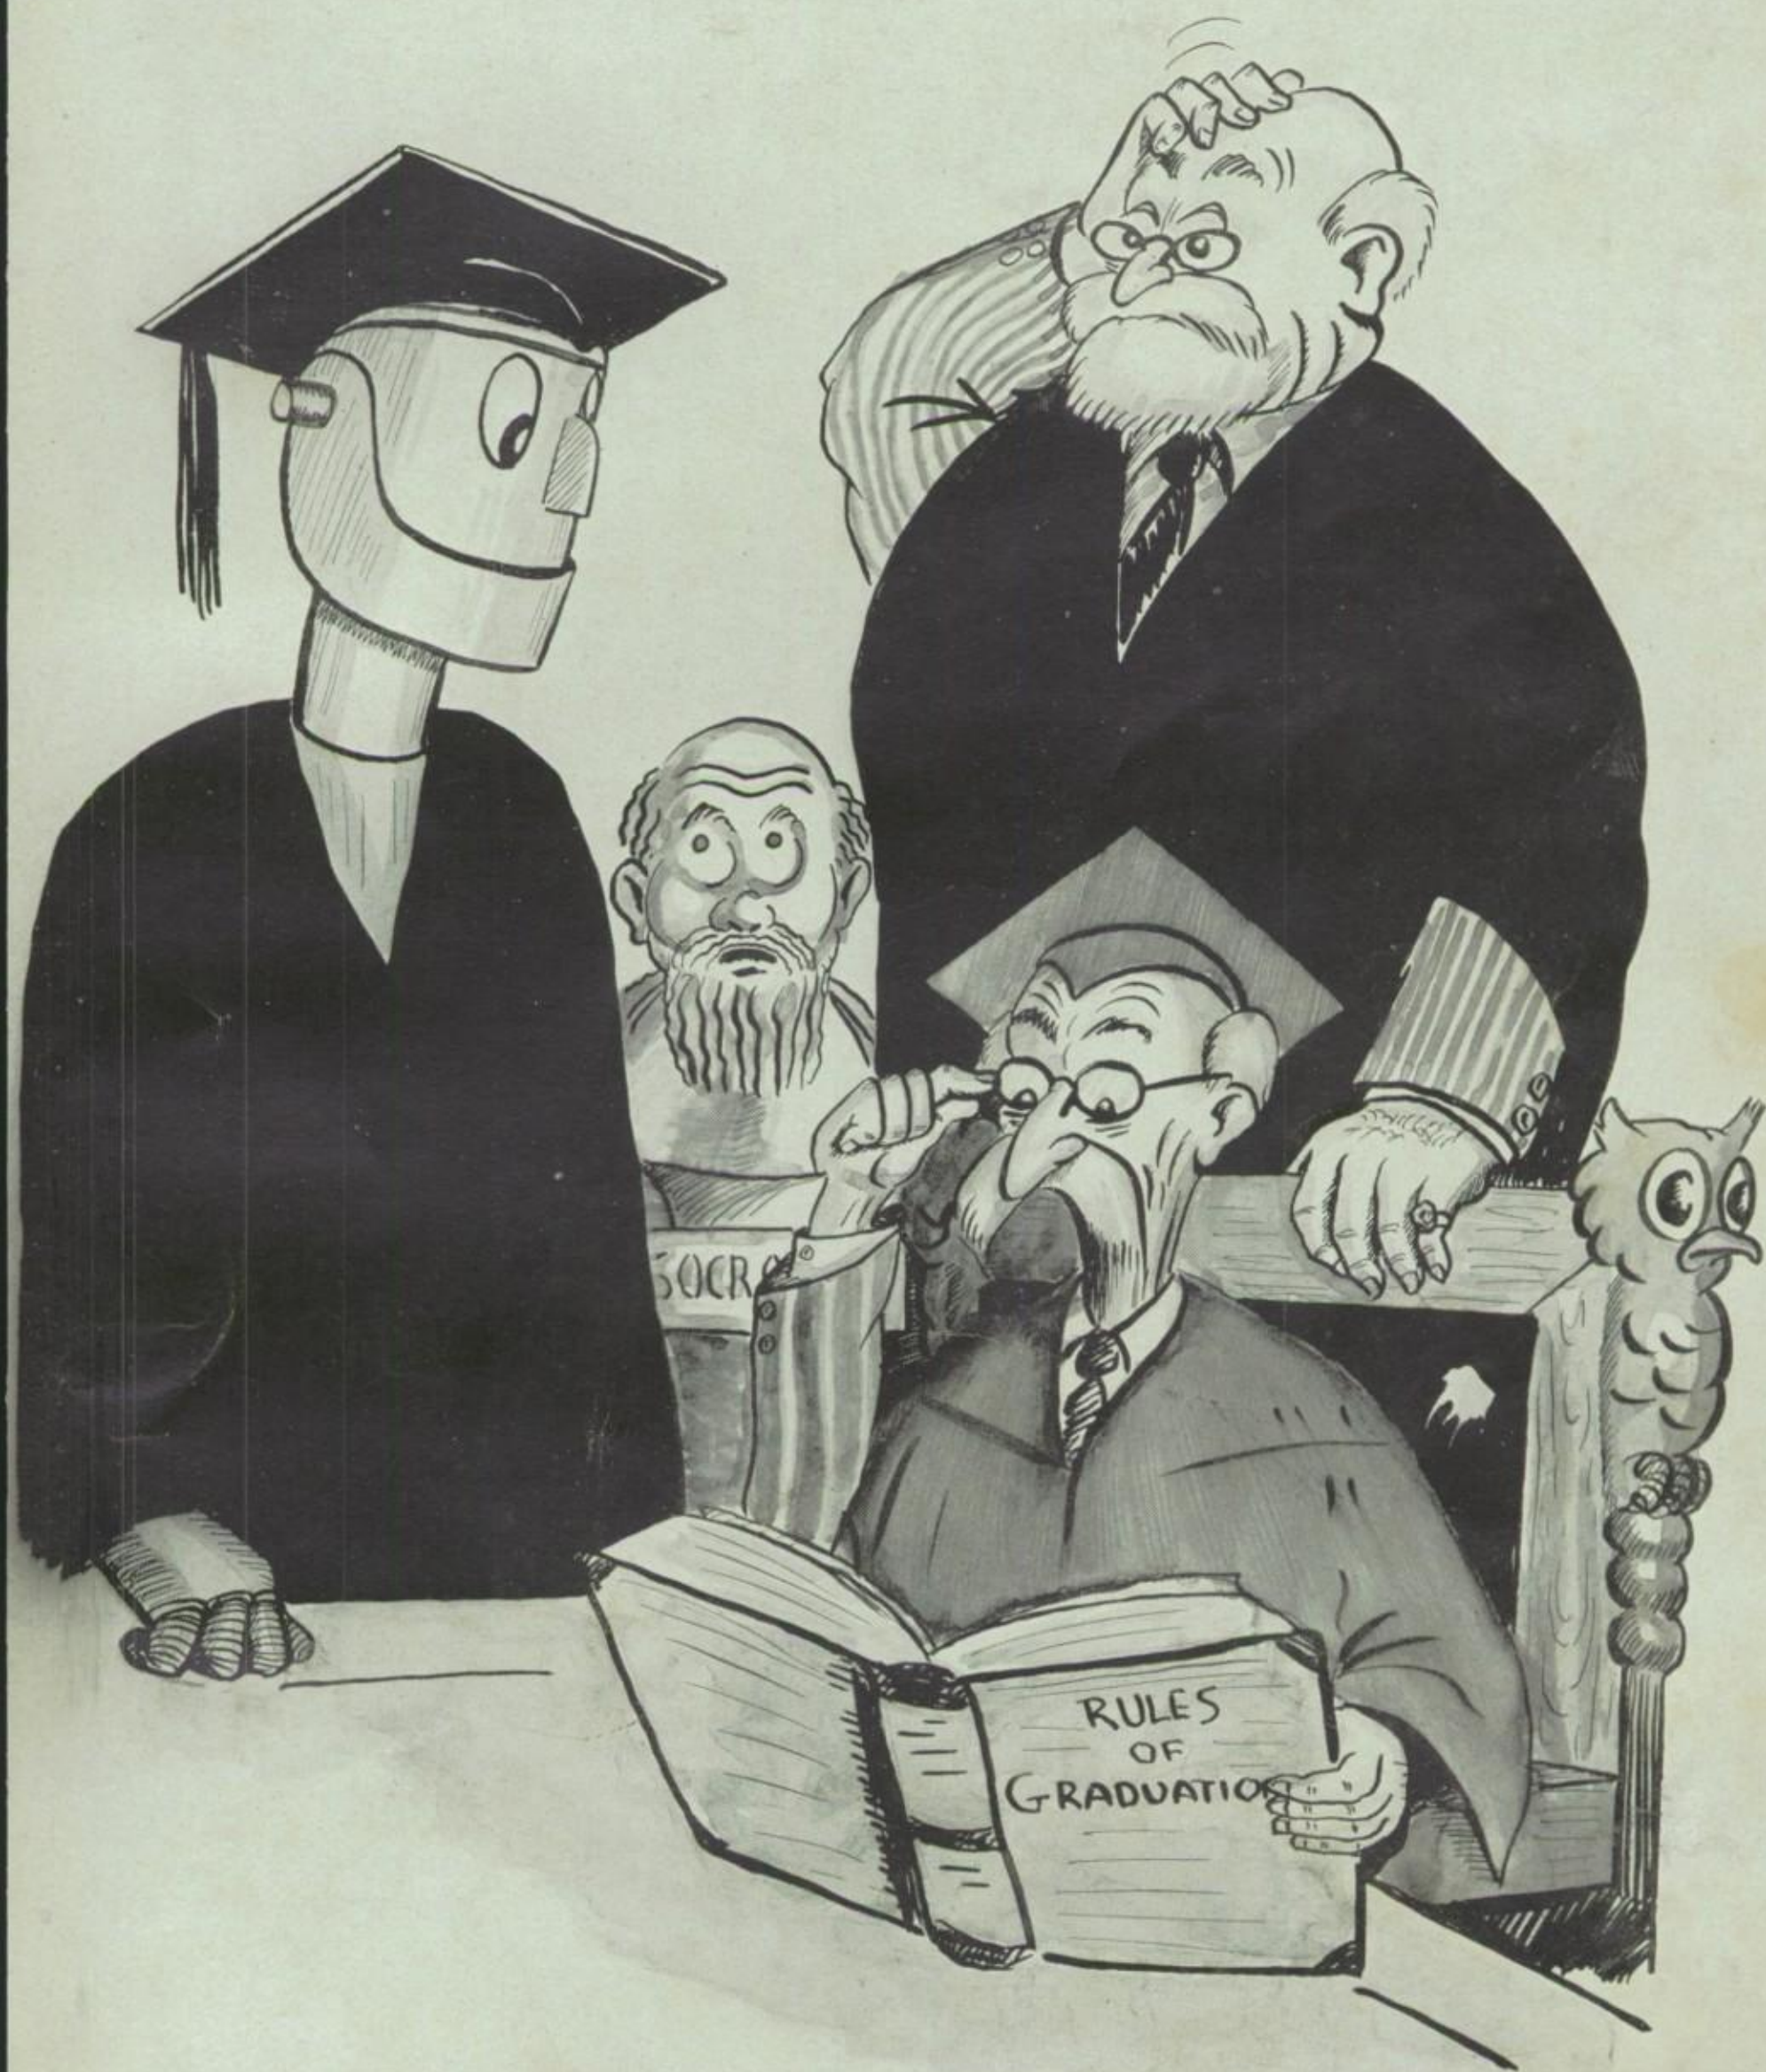

Every day is a busy one for Miss Shinkle and her helpers in the clinic, which is open every day before home room period. This period is the busiest time of the day. Throughout the day girls come in to help Miss Shinkle care for the ailing students. A few of their jobs are taking weights, measuring heights and writing pass slips.

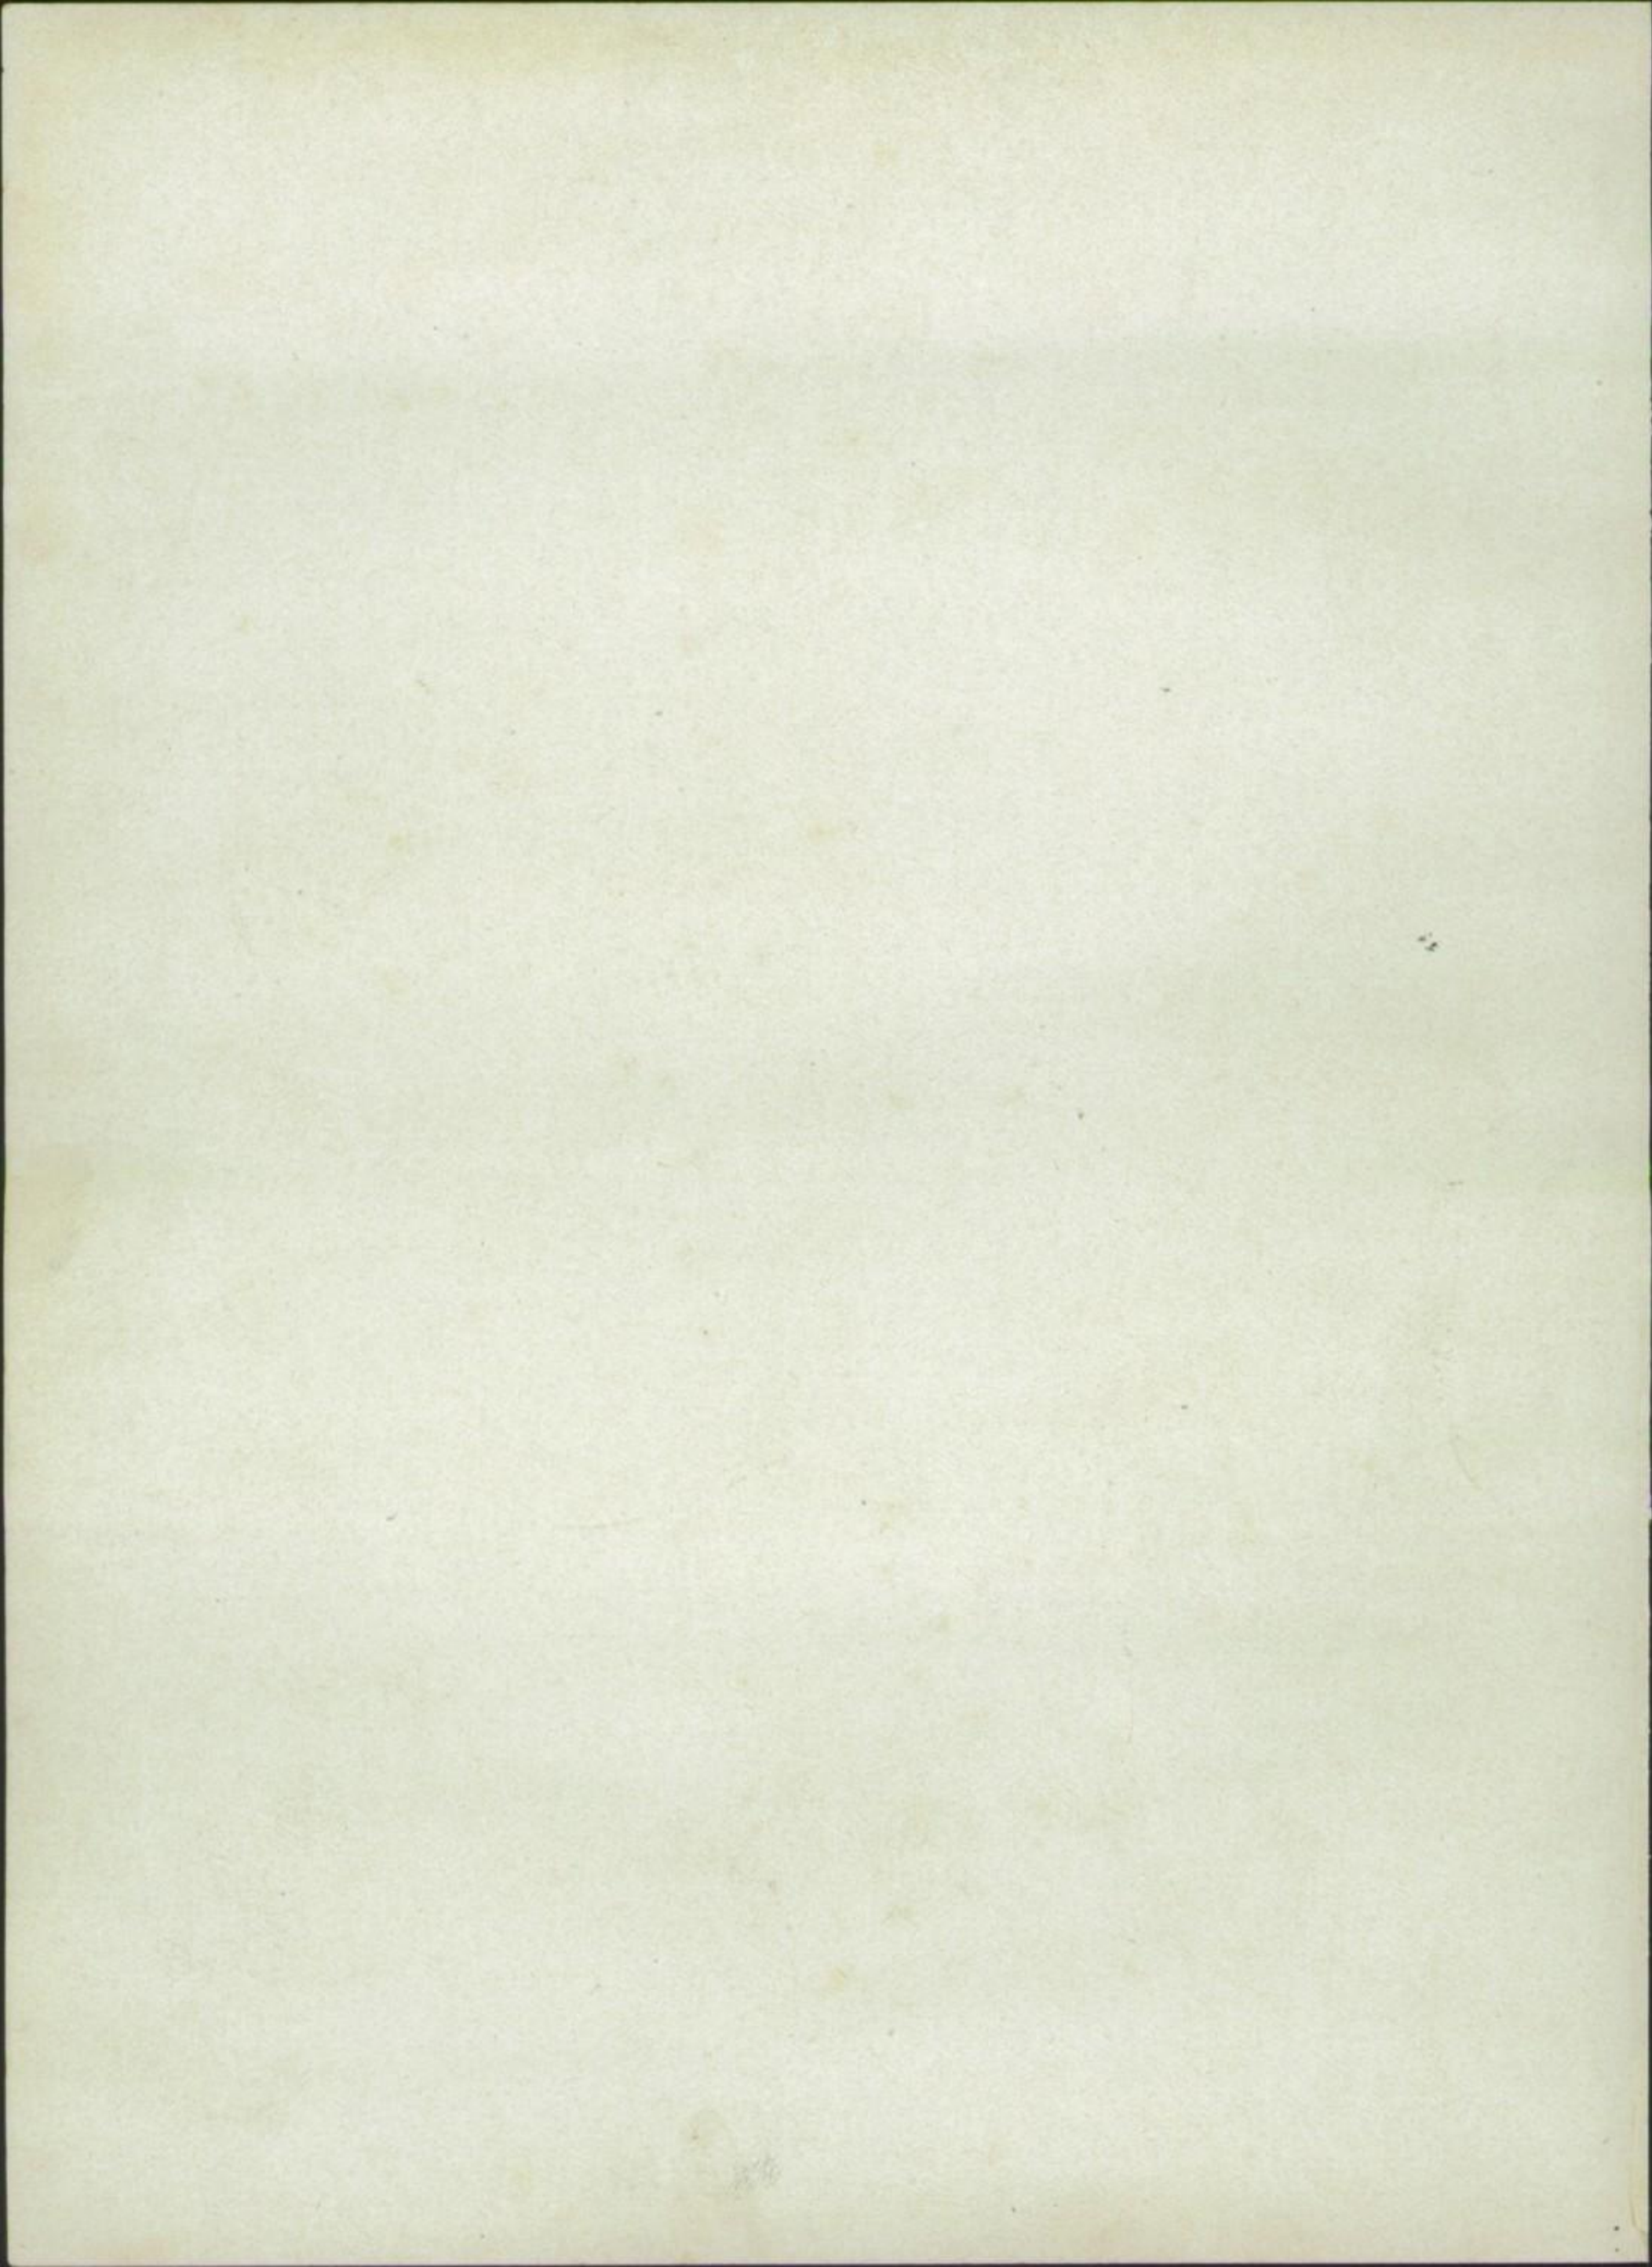

Dr. Brill and Dr. Hepp gave the physical examinations this fall and shortly afterwards the eye examinations were given. There were also teeth examinations this year. There is no regular dentist for the school but the job is divided among several who each give their services one day a week.

(Tune: Deep Purple)

When I lie down at night,
After turning out the light,
And the darkness seems to hover all above,
Through the mist of my memories,
I always seem to see
Old Norwood High School I love.

And when all's said and done,
There is really only one;
And a place within my happy heart you've won.
As the night comes so swift and cool,
My dear old high school,
I think of you and your fun.

Norwood's 1946 Senior Scholarship Squad had a mark to shoot at, since the school boasts the state winner, Seymour Zackerman, in 1945.

Composed of nineteen eager seniors, the Squad met at Woodward High School Saturday morning, March 9, to participate in the state scholarship examination, a three-hour brain-buster.

Earlier, on Friday, February 19, ten members of the team took the nationwide Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Examination which holds a four-year college education with all expenses paid to winners. Norwood's brilliant Seymour Zackerman also took honors in this examination.

Students who represented Norwood were Robert Banker, Berdice Bezanson, Muriel Bower, Howard Burton, Ellen Doggett, Lenore Gravenkemper, Carolyn Hahn, Paul Henlein, Clara Hinkel, Frances Lepley, Jack McKeown, June Miller, Alex Pashalis, June Ramage, Janet Rice, LaVerne Stith, Jane Wiggeringloh, Enid Wolf.

The January class of '47 has only 30 girls and 10 boys. The girls are in 203 and the boys are combined with an eleven upper class in 318 because of their small number. Some of us have joined the Co-op class while a few have completed their work and gone to higher classes. Each year our class shrinks.

The girls held the Scholarship Banner during their freshman and sophomore years and many are on the A and B Honor Roll. 203 is the G. A. A. basketball champion team.

Of our few boys, some are on the school teams while others belong to various organizations. They won the Intramural Championship in basketball in 1945.

A class of 148, Eleven Uppers have shown personality, ambition, and ability. They root into the heart of every activity.

To cope with Prom expenses, Juniors (with the Lower Junior class) sponsored the Sadie Hawkins' Day Dance in November and the Prom

Pre-vue in April. The PROM, highlight of the Junior social calendar, was held April 26.

Nor were candidates from this class lacking for any event. By balloting, Upper Juniors were elected King and Queen Silhouette; one was voted Hi-Y Valentine Queen; one became Prom Queen. Presidents of the Latin Club, the French Club, and Girls' Council came from the Eleventh Upper.

Both boys and girls starred in athletic events. The football co-captains and five Varsity basketball lettermen were Eleven Uppers. At least one Junior boy entered in every athletic event.

Junior girls, not to be outdone, produced a good basketball team—runners up in the March Girls' Week tournament.

The entire class sponsored a clean-up campaign pledging its efforts to reduce carelessness and prevent vandalism within the school building and elsewhere.

Scholastic abilities of this class equalled their extra-curricular accomplishments. An average of 3 students acquired straight A grades in class work and 25 class members made A and B grades constantly. Approximately eighty per cent of the Norwood High School students of higher mathematics and science honored by a free course of lectures at the University of Cincinnati were Juniors.

January '48 class, a group of 68, is well represented in school activities and maintains good scholarship too.

A Junior drum major and one of three major-ettes strutted and twirled batons before the band at football games and on parade. Two husky Juniors played on the Varsity football team, one on Junior Varsity basketball team. Others worked off energy on the track and the baseball diamond. To encourage athletes were two Lower Junior cheerleaders.

Brawn, beauty, and brains! Who has all this? Why the upper sophomores. You find them in every club and sport. Many go out for basketball, football, baseball, and track to keep Norwood superior in athletics.

These upper sophomores are on the solid side too. Their dance in the fieldhouse drew crowds of students to hear Johnny Clark and his music makers. The proceeds Too young to worry about the army and exams—two senior solitudes—and too sophisticated to ignore dates and the prom! These are the lower sophomores.

Being a midyear class tended to get this group off to a rather deficient start. On the whole, they didn't meet with much success on the sale of war stamps and bonds, nor did they go all out for the purchase of student passes. There were a few who helped keep up a good reputation for the class.

As an oddity you will find the ten lower class is one of the few lower classes to have one of its members participate in the senior class play.

Athletes participating in every sport, members in Hi-Y and Girl Reserves, and quite a few members of the band and the orchestra are lower sophomores. Also, members of this class are active in nearly every other organization at good old N. H. S.

Because of our large class, we can hope to accomplish much during our stay at Norwood High. Already we have taken a firm stand among the other students and have entered into the activities offered us. The boys have taken interest in sports and clubs, mainly the Hi-Y. The girls, also, have entered into the club and sports field. G. A. A., the Glee Club, and Girl Reserves have been three of their chief

Well, High School, you can stop worrying about the little freshmen getting lost now. We'll admit the first few days, some of the girls might have gone to the machine shop instead of the girls' gym, or some of the boys might have ended up at the foods class but we know our way around pretty well now. Many of the boys are looking forward to joining the Hi-Y and the girls are looking forward to joining HYGR and also any of the other organizations open to us.

Away up in room 210 you can find the band home room. These four huge walls lodge 61 slaving, future Toscaninis, Tchaikowskys and Kreislers. There are also three teachers, Mr. Humberger, Mr. Cook, and Mr. Nott, who take care of all their little brain trusts and future artists of the classical world.

These poor, ingenious students hardly ever have a homeroom period together because there is either orchestra or band practice every morning, which forces these artists of tomorrow to do their nightwork at home.

It can be truthfully said that this is one of the hardest-working home rooms in Norwood High School.

Cosmetology is new to Norwood High School. To the layman, cosmetology means washing hair. To the informed, cosmetology is an unusual combination of art and science. Pure science is a study for the sole object of systematizing basic principles. Applied science is utilizing these facts to solve practical problems.

Branches of biological science which bear directly on beauty culture are anatomy, bacteriology, physiology, hygiene, and psychology.

Through physiological chemistry, effects of cosmetic preparations and treatments on the body are studied. Principles of physics are applied daily in the use of mechanical and electrical devices.

A cosmetologist needs to know about health and diseases of the skin, a direct contribution of the medical profession, not to treat or diagnose, but to advise and suggest medical care.

Science has made a contribution to the vocabulary of a cosmetologist. Most of the technical terms used are taken from Greek, Latin, and French and associated with their English equivalents.

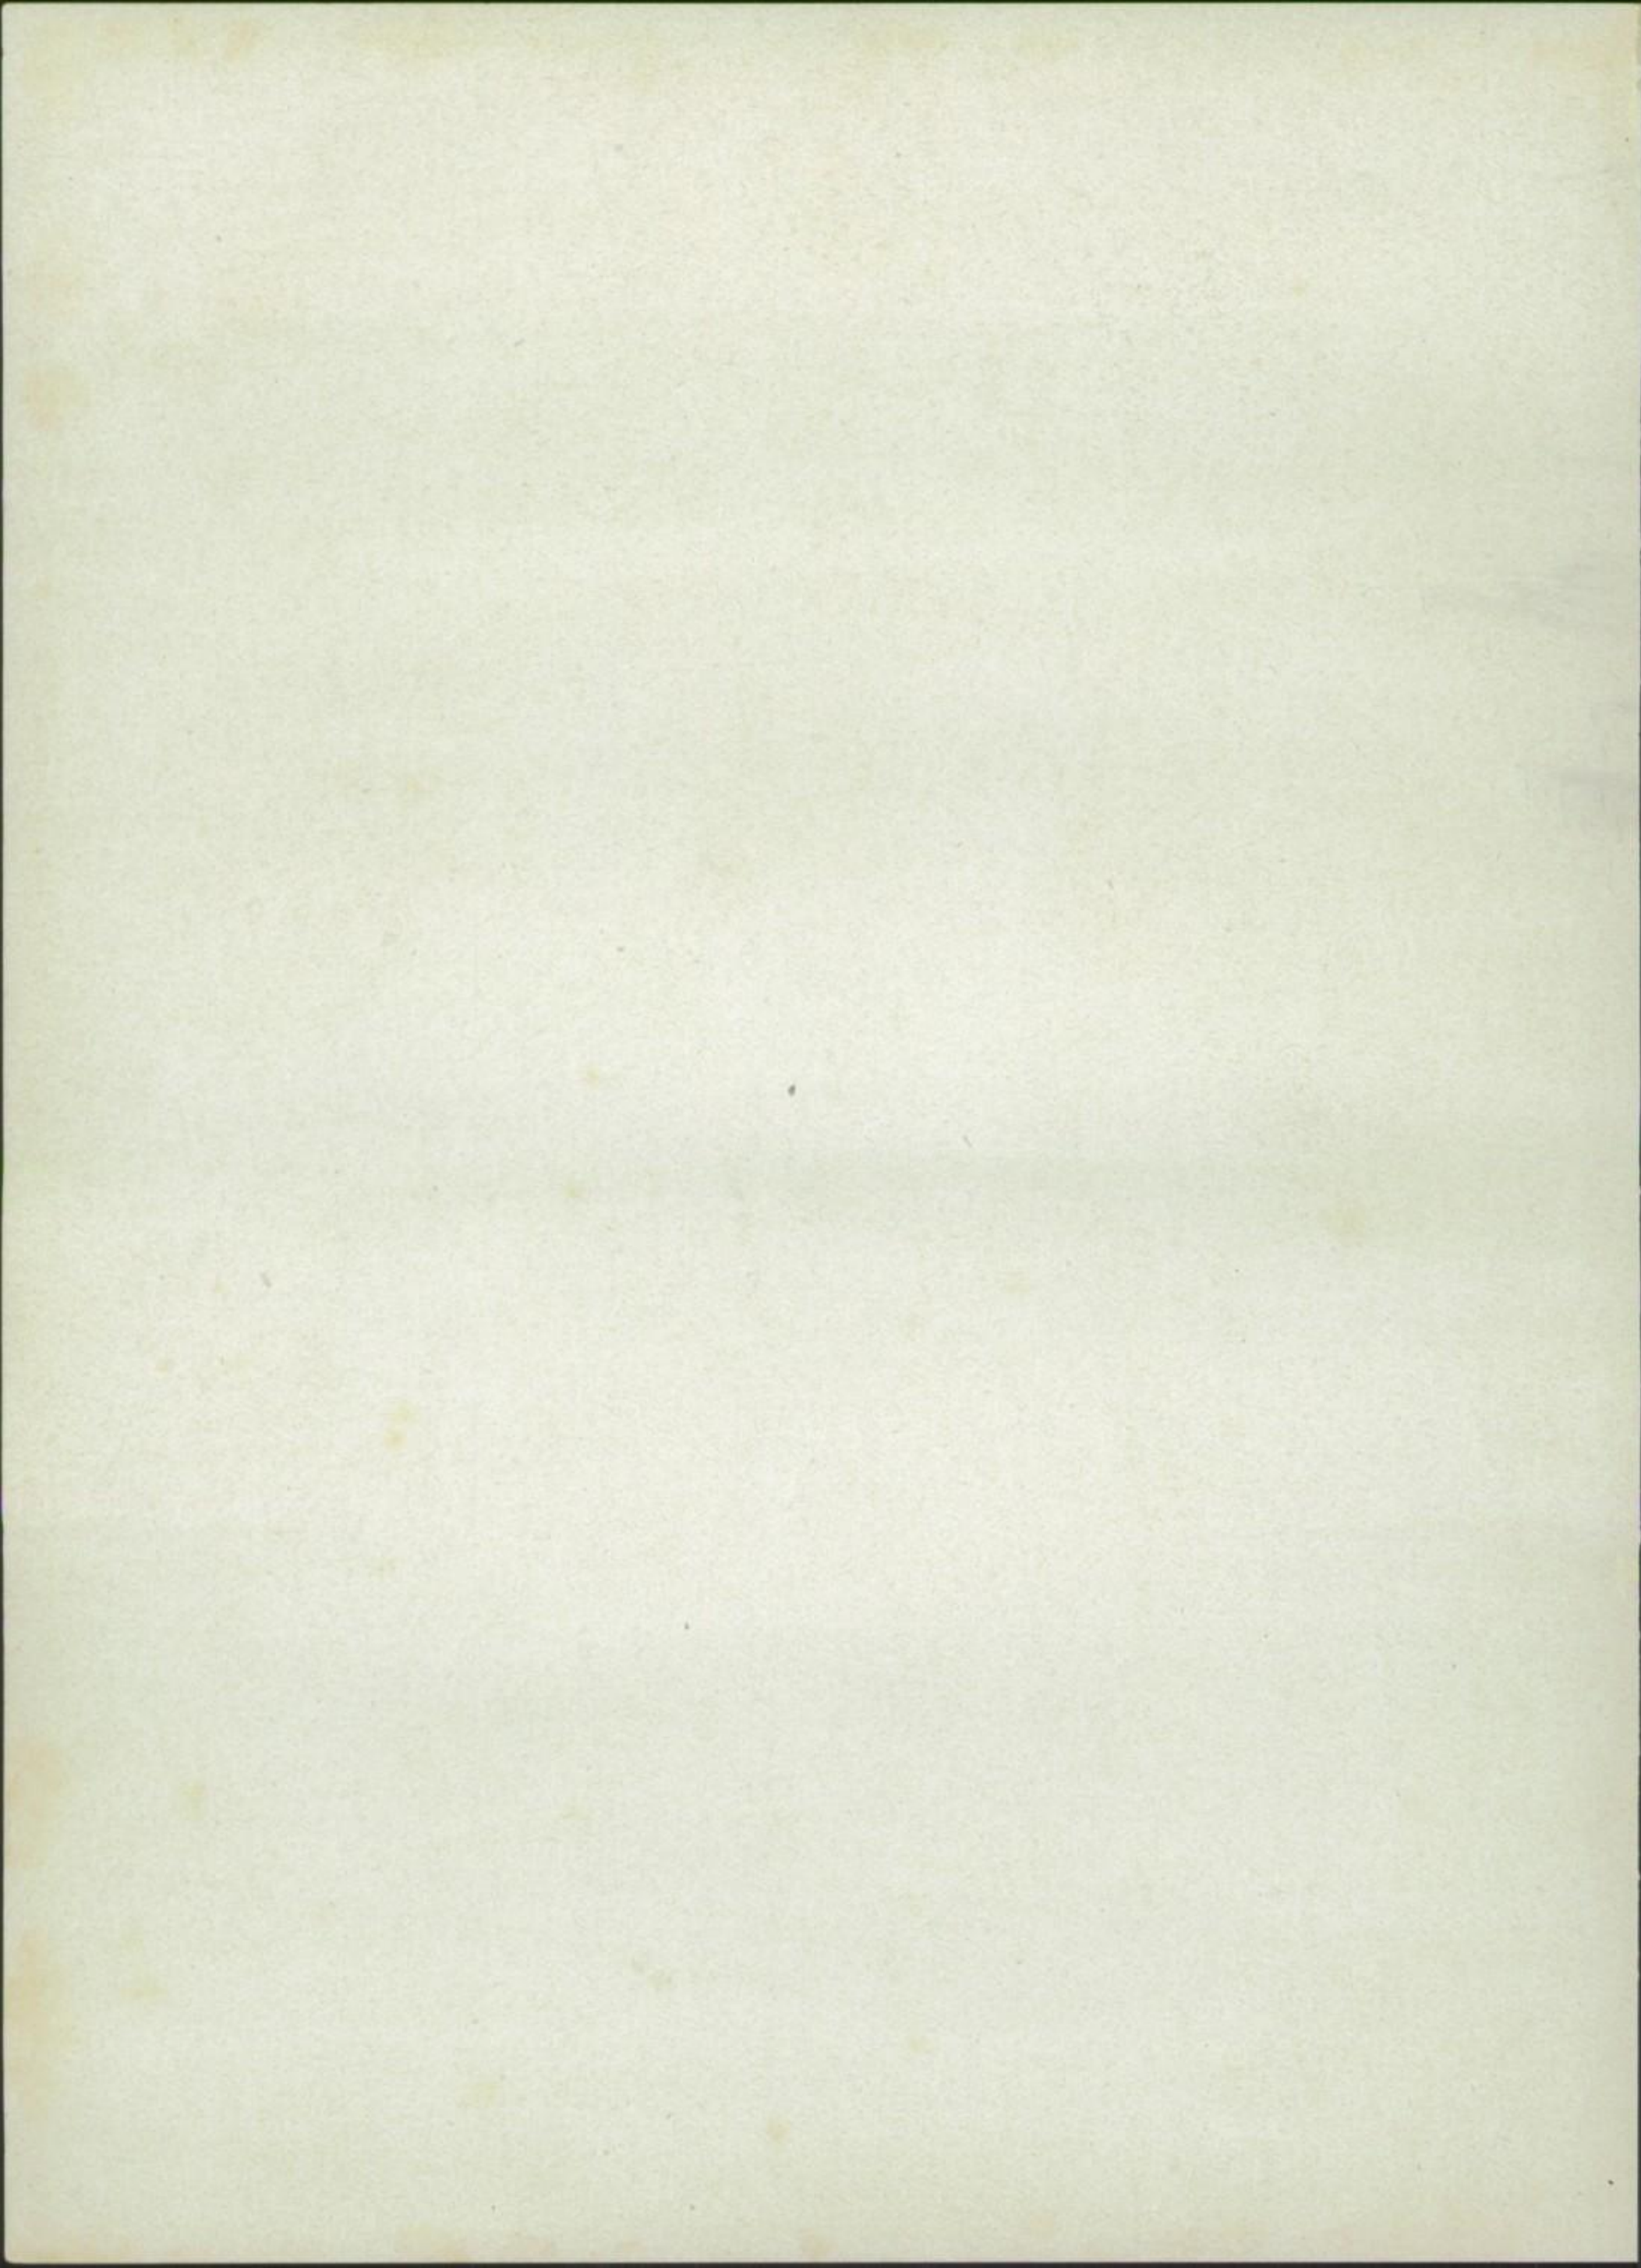

A girl is taught to meet people graciously, to cater to their moods, and to be tolerant of their idiosyncracies.

Cosmetology as a profession has unlimited possibilities for specialization as shown in the following list: hair styling, stage make-up, mechano and physio therapy (limited medical practice, D. M. degree), electrolysis (special license issued by the State Medical Board), shop ownership, traveling as a demonstrator, teaching, work as a consultant, and art work (merchandising, styling, advertising, photography).

The National Honor Society is an organization existing in approximately 3000 schools in the United States. The Norwood Chapter of the Society strives to uphold the four qualities which the National Society requires for admittance—scholarship, leadership, service and character. Each semester the chapter may initiate five per cent of the upper junior and upper and lower senior classes, the candidates being chosen from the upper twenty-five per cent of their class in scholarship. The Honor Society chapters sponsor many activities for the welfare of their schools, but because our members are busy as leaders in many school activities, we are unable to carry on many projects. One thing the local chapter does is to award, each report period, a pennant to the ninth and tenth grade, boys and girls home rooms with the highest average.

The Advisory Council consists of a representative and an alternate from each home room of girls. It meets every Tuesday morning and is concerned with school problems and school service. Its major activities in the past year have been the filling of sixty Red Cross boxes of school supplies, the program for Girls Week—March 25-29, the collection of food packages for foreign relief, and cooperation in the purchase of stamps and bonds for Purple Heart hospital units. The chairman has been Lila Grace; the secretary, Norma Monroe.

The student governing body of Norwood High School is the Student Council. The members consist of home room presidents, class presidents, class representatives, and the officers of Student Council. This organization is run by the students with Mr. Hanna acting as a representative of the faculty. Student Council's activities are enjoyed by the entire school body. The season began with a Grid Queen Dance and the profits helped buy the new basketball score board. Student Council elected Norwood High School's cheerleaders and promoted school spirit with pep rallies. This group also sponsored "Tag Day" in "Library Week" and many books were bought for our library through its success. Other activities were Bond Drives, The Honor Roll, Paper Drives, The Junior Red Cross, The Christmas Tree, sending Mirrors to our Service boys, The Service Record and Handbooks. On the more serious side of the activity list is the planning of "Gold Star Assemblies," honoring our boys killed in service. In conclusion, the Student Council has been very successful in bringing the faculty and the pupils closer together in the famous "Norwood High Way."

Art appreciation has hit a new high at Norwood because of the efforts of the Paint Spots. This organization, now in its third year, is open to any student interested in art. The Paint Spots encourage pupils in Mr. Olmes's art classes to exhibit their work in the halls so that other students may see the work they do.

Members of the art club participate in many activities which pertain to art and the development of a fine appreciation. This year we sponsored an exhibit of students' work which was displayed in Norwood merchant's stores. Early in April we sponsored a Bake Sale in the front hall.

A significant new development commands the attention of every boy and girl of Norwood High School. A campaign is on this year to raise $250,000 for a YM-YWCA. This proposed new fireproof building will contain 2 gymnasiums, a large swimming pool, hobby rooms, lounges, social recreation room, and a modern cafeteria. This project recognizes the value of co-ed program activities while providing adequate equipment facilities for all age groups and is worthy of support by every Norwood family.

The officers of the senior club, Beta Hi-Y. The presidents of Beta, Alpha, Delta, Phi, Eta, Tau, Chi, and Pi Hi-Y clubs.

At present there are eight Hi-Y Clubs in Norwood High; Beta (12 U), Alpha (12 L), Delta (11 U), Phi (11 L), Eta (10 U), Tau (10 L), Chi (9 U), Pi (9 L). These clubs are under the leadership of competent teachers and former Hi-Y members who serve voluntarily. These clubs are open to any Norwood High student.

An impressive Hi-Y induction ceremony which is sponsored each semester by the upper Senior Hi-Y club and is held in one of the local churches.

Popular Hi-Y activities are sponsoring after-football and after-basketball game dances, chili and hamburger suppers, swimming parties, movies, trips to educational points of interest in the county. Hi-Y clubs have speakers and discussions on religion, health, athletics, science, race, and government. A good many service projects for the school "Y" and community have also been performed. Hi-Y athletic events are conducted in many sports. Many cooperative projects are held each year with the Girl Reserves.

The Y. W. C. A. is a city-wide, nation-wide, and world-wide organization. Girl Reserves are junior members of the Y. W. C. A. Girl Reserve Clubs will develop a girl's character and personality through experience in this democratic group.

In cooperation with Hi-Y, Girl Reserves have sponsored the Christmas and Easter assemblies, the Christmas caroling party, the ushering at community Thanksgiving and Easter services, a joint service project, and social hygiene lectures for juniors and seniors by Dr. Roy Dickerson.

Girl Reserves had a varied program this year. Hygr gave their annual Pin Up Boy Dance in December and annual donut sale in October, along with parties and dinners. Candidates for social affairs were chosen.

Projects of the Girl Reserve Clubs included a fall rally, World Fellowship dinner, and recognition service. The Ring Group program consisted of speeches and the study of the meaning of Girl Reserve membership. Each club had its own service project.

To present the news on time in an interesting manner and provide a means of intercommunication among faculty members and students is the goal of the "Mirror" staff. In complying with this aim, the staff has found that hard work and perseverance go a long way in achieving success.

In publishing the "Mirror" the members of the staff are constantly striving to improve the quality of their newspaper. They realize that teamwork is important in determining the quality of a publication.

In addition to the regular issues this year, there were printed and distributed, a special six-page Christmas edition printed in green ink, an April Fool's Day edition, and a six-page graduation edition containing special cartoon cuts of entering and graduating students designed by Dave Bartholomew.

Advisors, Mrs. Margaret Tipton and Mr. Rollin Steen; Co-editors, Beverly Flick and Clara

Hinkel; Associate Editors, Shirley Edwards, Mary McKinney, Norma Smith, Frances Stanford, and Schubert Ogden; Sports Editors, Bill Townsley, Tom Slade, Joe Hutton, together with the staff reporters extend their appreciation to all school organizations, students, and faculty members who have given their cooperation throughout the past year and whose help has aided in maintaining the tradition of the "Mirror," making it truly a "reflection of Norwood High School."

As Adam, the staff mechanical man, looked through some copies of previous annuals, he discovered the "Beacon," the first edition of a Norwood High Annual, which was published in 1908. This was a paper-bound, loose-leaf ancestor of today's "Silhouette." Then he found the "Mirror," a monthly magazine, which had a featured graduation publication. The next book that attracted his attention was the crimson and gold covered one of 1923, the first to have the name "Silhouette." Since that time each Silhouette Staff and its advisors have tried to publish a yearly record of the events and activities at Norwood High School.

To produce for the students a bigger and better 1946 "Silhouette" was the aim of this year's staff. Striving to attain this purpose, the Silhouette Staff sponsored a successful dance of October 12, 1945, which featured the crowning of the "Silhouette King and Queen of 1946."

Adam wishes to congratulate the staff members listed above for their tireless efforts and time given to the preparation of this book. He also realizes that without the aid of the advisors, W. Ross Dunn, J. P. Olmes, and E. M. Smith, and the help contributed by some willing students, the publication of the book could not have been made a reality.

The Band this year added a few extra innovations. Besides playing for football games, basketball games, and pep rallies, it marched in parades. It also worked for new uniforms by giving a dance on February 8.

The Band, consisting of sixty-nine members under the direction of Mr. Gaylord Humberger, gave its annual concert on March 22. Many members earned and received their Band Letters.

The drum majorettes and drum major added much to the flare and color of the Band.

The popular opinion is that the Band has made great strides forward; therefore, it deserves to be encouraged and supported.

Zeta Glee Club consists of ninth and tenth grade girls. Those eligible for membership must have a suitable singing voice and the ability to carry a part and read music.

Their meetings on Wednesday afternoon give each girl an opportunity to enjoy and express herself in choral singing. After two years of membership they are eligible to join Alpha Glee Club.

Eleventh and twelfth grade girls of special singing ability meet at 8 A. M. on Tuesday mornings for the Alpha Girls Glee Club rehearsals.

This year, accompanied by Roselle Lansdale and Carolyn Hahn, Alpha sang for Baccalaureate, both in January and in June. The highlight of the year was the Spring Concert, May 3, at which Alpha sang one fourth of the program.

Miss Pearl Ewing directs all glee clubs.

Seventy boys from various grades in the high school composed the Omicron Boys Glee Club and practiced every Thursday from 8 A. M. to 9:05 A. M. June Ramage and Joan Birrell accompanied the chorus which sang regular four part male arrangements.

Outstanding event on the Club's calendar was the annual Spring Concert which featured soloists Don Swardson and Harold Ingram. A dance attended by members of various Glee Clubs followed the concert.

This spring six Omicron members trekked to Cleveland to participate in an all Ohio concert.

Students, chosen to be members of the Choir, have been selected because of outstanding qualities, not only voice, but also ability to read more advanced music, and ability to hold parts correctly.

During the past year, the Choir sang at a Christmas assembly given by the Music Department. The Choir and Glee Clubs were honored by being asked to participate, on March 29, in a convention at Cleveland where they were represented by 10 members who sang in the chorus of 1,600. A Cappella Choir, accompanied by Shirley Haslinger and Mrs. Grace Hamilton, music teacher at Sharpsburg grade school, carried one-fourth of the Spring Concert program, May 3. To close the year's activities the Choir planned a dance, the proceeds of which will be used to purchase robes.

Hi Norwood!

By this time you must be wondering what is meant by Phieta Selogos, the name of our club. And, by this time we think you should know that it is the Greek word for Foods Club.

In selecting the name, we wanted one that had eye-appeal or "zip," not just an ordinary name, but one that everyone would notice. We must have succeeded or you wouldn't be reading this. We like the name, don't you?

Of course our name is just a minor attraction of our club, because there are many more exciting facts. We like to think that our business meetings are carried on in expert fashion by using correct parliamentary procedure. After our business meetings we have entertainment, games, and refreshments which are eagerly anticipated by each of us.

One of our biggest occasions was at Halloween when we invited our home room teachers to our masquerade party. Everyone there completely enjoyed herself.

Not only do we have a good time, but also we learn things. Our theme for this year is "food conditions of the world." We understand better the problems that people in other countries are having.

Your friends of Phieta Selogos

Como esta' usted, amigos? We, the Spanish Club of 1945-46, are doing exceptionally well. Our activities have made much progress toward the standard goal that each Norwood Club strives for. Each Spanish class has its individual club with active officers and programs. These officers make up the nominating committee for the election of officers for the large Spanish Club. Since the club is run in a democratic manner, each member is allowed to vote for his classmate leaders. These officers, as in most clubs, are chosen for their abilities in leadership and progressive ideas. Of course, this wouldn't

The French Club, "Toujours Amis de France," has met the first Friday of every month during the French class period for the purpose of creating more interest in France and the welfare of her countrymen. The name of the club, "Toujours Amis de France," means "always friends of France."

A routine meeting of the French Club would include the secretary's report, which is read in French, the treasurer's report and both old and new business. The program committee, composed of Richard Bates, chairman, Edith Higdon and Janice Rennick provide the class with some entertaining French jokes or French Bingo. This helps to increase vocabulary and speaking power.

A woman refugee from France spoke to the class on French War Relief.

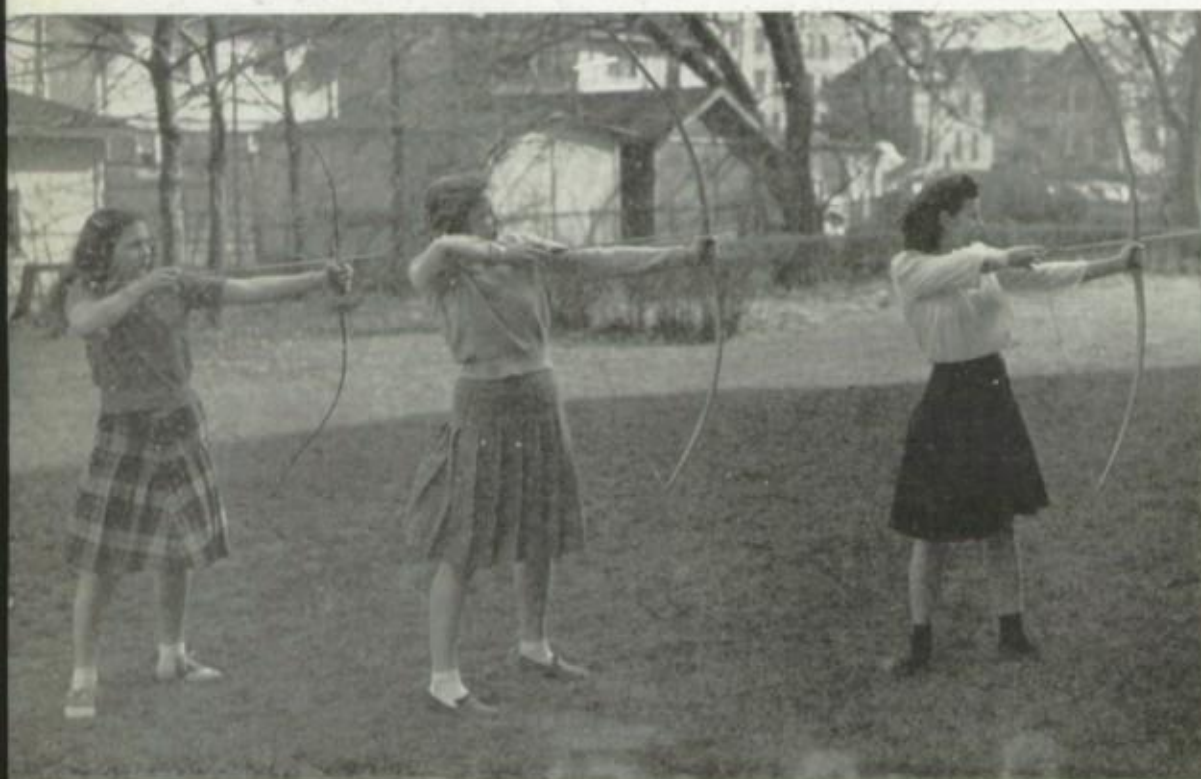

The social event of the year was a French dinner which was given at La Normandie in April to which Miss Troup was invited as guest of honor.

The Girls Athletic Association provides wholesome after school activities. A varied program is planned to meet the leisure time interests of the largest possible number of girls. There are no dues, the money for the budget is raised by various projects carried on through the year.

The spring sports are softball, hiking, and archery. The fall sports are archery and hiking. The most popular sport season is winter, during which the G. A. A. offers basketball. Swimming is conducted the year round, with an endurance swim of five hundred pool lengths in the spring. Also, Junior and Senior Life Saving may be passed annually.

Each activity has a separate point system. When a girl accumulates one thousand points, the Girls Athletic Association awards to her a big "N."

G. A. A.

The program is conducted by the Girls Physical Education Department. The policies are discussed and formulated by a board consisting of seven members elected each year by the entire membership.

The purpose of the organization is to provide a variety of sports so that every girl can find an interesting activity.

One of the projects in which the G. A. A. takes an active part is Girls Week. The board sponsors a posture parade and the regular finals of the basketball tournament. Each home room is asked to submit a song in the contest, and these songs are judged on the basis of numbers participating, presentation, cleverness and originality in words and tune selection, and lastly, the appropriateness of ideas and subject matter. A suitable trophy is awarded to all of the winners.

"It's a homer, we hope."

Coach Sammy Hale's 1945 Varsity Indian eleven, although short on victories was long on experience. The Redskins had to be satisfied with one win in their eight games, a 12-0 decision over Plainville's Blue Devils.

Bill Hammond and Herb Canada were elected co-captains and helped spark the team along with veterans Schwankhaus, Beckstedt, Sterrett, Moore, Plueddemann, Haslinger, Combs, and Lucas. Newcomers who performed were Benecker, Burnett, Sager and Yoshikawa as backs; and Wimmer, Wall and Banker on the line. All but three of these gridgers will be back to cavort for the Indians next season.

Launching the season September 21 under the local lights Norwood fell before Fairfield, 7-0, but came back to whitewash Plainville before a Civic Night crowd the next Friday. Then followed successive losses to Walnut Hills, St. Xavier, Lockland, Withrow, Woodward and the finale, a 27-7 casualty at Western Hills.

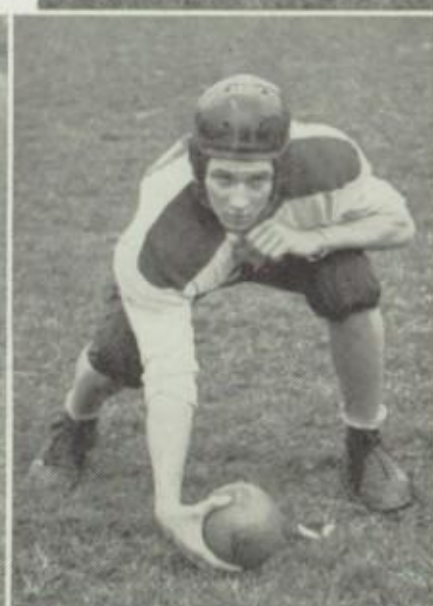

"Two Maroons close in on Schwankhaus for the kill." "Head football coach Sammy Hale." "Haslinger and Beckstedt after Woodward's Paul Crum, Cincinnati's leading scorer."

Displaying marked improvement after each contest, Coach Whitey Gerrard's fast, young 1945-1946 cagers captured 7 games of an 18-game schedule. Varsity lettermen who paced the Indian attack were Wolf, Beckstedt, Sterrett, DeMonge, forwards; Hammond, Haslinger, Smith, miniature guards; and Hall, center. Reserve letters went to Banker, Lang, Slade and Townsley for their outstanding relief work. Beckstedt, Wolf, and Townsley, all January seniors, were forced to leave the team after the Stivers game at Dayton.

Leading scorer for the Indians was Center Dave Hall, a sophomore who tallied 137 points, followed closely by Captain Pete Sterrett, who rang up 134.

The season of 1945 proved very successful for Coach Sammy Hale's Indian nine. During the regular season the Indians took 10 of 12 games but were cut short in the District Tournament on a 6-1 decision by St. Xavier in the opening round.

The Redskins' only other losses were to the Class "A" State Champions, Woodward, 10-4 in ten innings, and our arch-rivals Withrow, 10-3. Boys who helped trim such formidable foes as Purcell, Walnut Hills, St. Bernard, Central, Deer Park, and Milford were infielders: Deiss, Wettig, Hammond, Schwankhaus, Gerbhardt, Kitchen; outfielders Warren, Beckstedt, Heflin, Hall; pitchers: Slade, Cahill, Eschenbach, Jamison; and catchers: Young, Popplewell, and Plueddemann.

The Norwood High School "N" Club originated during the 43-44 basketball season. The reserve squad of that year were the charter members and they elected Bob Beckstedt their first president.

The principal aim of the club has been to build up sports at Norwood High School. Some of the requirements for entrance into the club are as follows: 1. Applicant must have earned a letter (Manager, Jr. Varsity, Reserve or Varsity). 2. Applicant must be willing to go out for at least one sport a year. 3. Applicant must be willing to abide by the following rules along with many others:

1. Absolutely no smoking or drinking
2. Keep reasonable hours
3. Be a good sport in all activities.

Only, however, through the cooperation of co-advisors, Aaron "Whitey" Gerrard, basketball coach, and Allen Reed, Norwood alumnus, Dr. H. S. Bates and the businessmen of Norwood could the "N" Club have been such a success as it is.

Silhouette King and Queen

On Columbus Day, 1945, the Silhouette presented a dance in the fieldhouse for the purpose of raising funds. Highlight of the dance was the crowning of the Silhouette King and Queen, Bill Hammond and Margaret Green, both juniors. The staff of 1946 hopes that this may become a yearly affair for future Silhouettes—not only to raise expense money, but also to promote interest in our yearbook.

Jan. 17 Orchestra Concert . . . Mr. Humberger worked hard and so did all of the students. The finished product was well worth the effort.

Jan. 18 Norwood vs. Dayton Stivers.

Jan. 20 Baccalaureate.

Jan. 22 Last day for seniors . . . Boy, all of the free and happy looks floating around here today. You can easily tell it's the last day for the seniors.

Jan. 24 Everyone was happy today. School closed because of reports.

Jan. 25 We all came back again today. Some were happy, some were sad. Reports again.

Jan. 26 Norwood vs. Withrow . . . What a game!

Feb. 1 Norwood vs. Purcell . . . Eta Hi-Y gave a dance in the fieldhouse.

Feb. 8 Norwood vs. St. Xavier.

This for me—a party given by the Foods Club. These girls are the ones for the fellas that like to eat!

X-rays were taken by the Anti-Tuberculosis League, an organization that deserves credit.

A large crowd supports the Norwood Indian basketballers.

Yea team! These cheerleaders paved the way to many vocal victories.

Calendar

Feb. 9 Pre-Valentine Day Dance at the canteen. It featured Vic Adkins and Donna Jean. Huba Huba!

Feb. 12 Lincoln's Birthday.

Feb. 14 HYGR Valentine tea given in honor of the freshmen. Of course, everyone was invited.

Feb. 15 Norwood vs. Hamilton

Feb. 16 The annual DeMolay Sweetheart Ball was held down at the Hotel Sinton. Madeline Schultz was up from Norwood but Donna Jean got it.

Feb. 19 Norwood vs. Withrow at Withrow.

Feb. 21 Norwood vs. Walnut Hills at Walnut Hills.

Feb. 22 Purple Heart Veterans gave the Purple Heart Ball. Pert freshie Nancy Condon was elected queen.

Mar. 8 Canteen held the Spring Frolic; it again featured Vic Adkins and Donna Jean.

Mar. 11 Latin Club sponsored bond drive. It was a big success.

Mar. 15 The Ides of March "Come see what Caesar missed." Dance was held tonight. It was a huge success.

Mar. 22 The geniouses of N. H. held the Band Concert tonight.

Mar. 25 Beginning of Girls Week.

Mar. 28 The songs were sung and donations made in the assembly held in the auditorium today in honor of the girls.

Mar. 29 Lower seniors gave their dance. It featured Johnny Clark's band.

You'll all remember the Silhouette King and Queen you elected at this dance.

The February Class had its audience rolling in the aisles with their antics.

Informal shot of the February Seniors taken just before commencement.

Calendar

Apr. 5 Pre-Prom Dance was given. A large crowd attended.

Apr. 12 The witty seniors held their Class Day and had the audience rolling in the aisles.

Apr. 18 Very solemn Easter assembly was held today. It was very much enjoyed by all attending.

Apr. 21 'Tis the time of the year when the Easter Bunny comes 'round and hides all the pretty Easter eggs.

Apr. 26 The much longed for and much awaited Junior Prom came off this night. Everyone had a good time.

May 3 The excellent and enticing Spring Concert put everyone in the "Springy" mood. It was a great success.

May 10 Those witty seniors were in again but this time it was to present their class play. It was very much enjoyed by a large enthusiastic audience.

May 30 Decoration Day.

June 2 Baccalaureate.

June 5 Style show given by the sewing classes.

June 7 We said goodbye to the very popular seniors as they "are gone forever" now.

June 14 Much as I hate to say goodbye (heh heh) I'll have to tell all you children that school is over for the summer.

These projectionists are the ones who help in bringing the movies to you.

M-Mmmmm good. That's what everybody said about the Bake Sale given by the lower senior girls.

Candidates for the Queen of the Purple Heart Dance.

Heart of hearts. HYGR gave a Valentine Tea for the freshies.

Calendar

Emma Forste, Ollie Sedam, Marie Hoffman, Margaret Greer, Garnet Butz, Lily Lotshaw, Hilda Niehoff, Linda Sullivan, Celia Smith.

Like Rome, to which all roads lead; like Grand Central Station, target of the railroads; like the hub of a wheel is the school cafeteria every day, fourth bell. At the given signal the entire student body, like hounds in the chase, rush in a mad stampede for the food.

In the lunchroom good food and proper nourishment have always been cardinal rules with the staff and Miss Reis, the school dietitian, and the students prove that the food is good by the amount eaten every day.

Now since soundproofing has been added, everyone can eat in peace and quiet that is interrupted by only the occasional crash of a milk bottle, plate, fork, or tray. Any mishap is quickly remedied by one of a capable staff of male scullery maids who are always willing to drop their towels and pick up a mop in time of duty.

Ever-present in the cafeteria is the gang of table reservers who will claim a table, and any freshman unfortunate enough to be seated there is quickly removed. Here they talk over the day's crime and plan further deviltry, usually arriving back at class several minutes late.

"They'll make some woman a good wife someday."

"Portrait—Epicures at Work."

"Chow line, civilian style. 'Take your thumb out of my soup'."
